FEMA All Staff November Native American Heritage Month Event

How to connect

November marks the beginning of Native American Heritage Month, celebrating the rich and diverse cultures, traditions, and contributions of all Native people. The theme this year is Resilience: From Contact to COVID-19, encouraging us to reflect on the strength and resilience of Native people throughout history. FEMA recognizes the immeasurable contributions that American Indians and Alaska Natives have made to our Nation and FEMA.
In celebration of National Native American Heritage Month, FEMA's Region One has partnered with several Tribal Nations and the Office of Equal Rights to host a 60-minute virtual panel discussion and Q & A on Tuesday, November 10, 2020 from 1:00pm – 2:00pm EST.
The Tribal Panelists are:

- Chief Lynn Malerba, Tribal Chief - Mohegan Tribe;
- Nelson Andrews, Jr., Emergency Management Director - Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe;
- Hunter Tobey, FEMA National Youth Preparedness Council member - Mashpee Wampanoag Tribe;
- Jonathan P. Cote, Emergency Management Director - Aroostook Band of Micmacs; and
- John Dennis, Culture Coordinator - Aroostook Band of Micmacs.

Please join us to learn more about the history and accomplishments of Native people.
