

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Dear Tribal Leader,

The White House is pleased to announce the 2023 White House Tribal Nations Summit on December 6th and 7th in Washington, D.C at the U.S. Department of the Interior.

This event is at the core of the Biden-Harris Administration's commitment to our Nation-to-Nation relationship with Tribal Nations. The Summit will feature new Administration announcements and updates in our work to implement vital policy initiatives supporting Tribal communities. The Summit is also an opportunity for Tribal leaders and top Administration officials to have meaningful conversations about the most important issues facing Tribal communities.

The Biden-Harris Administration looks forward to having productive conversations with Tribal government representatives from across Indian Country about all that we have accomplished and what more we can accomplish together.

Additional details will be provided upon registration. Please register for the 2023 White House Tribal Nations Summit by 5pm ET on Wednesday, November 29th, 2023 at the link below. We have extended the registration deadline to provide additional time for Tribal leaders to register.

Due to limited capacity, we can only accommodate one Tribal leader per Tribe. Tribal leaders who cannot attend, but would like to designate another governmental representative of the Tribe, may do so by emailing TNS@who.eop.gov.

Please register here: White House Tribal Nations Summit | IGA | The White House

If you have any questions, please reach out to TNS@who.eop.gov.

Respectfully,

White House Office of Intergovernmental Affairs
White House Domestic Policy Council
