Steven Judd is a member of the Writers Guild of America. Was a staff writer Disney XD comedy series "Zeke and Luther." Zeke and Luther launched in June 2009 with the highest-rated primetime debut among kid demos in the 10-year history of the channel. His episode "A Very Hairy Problem" premiered on January 25th 2010.

"MAC v. PC with a Native Twist" garnered Judd a semifinalist position in NBC/Universal's Comedy Short Cuts Diversity Film Festival in 2007 and inclusion in an installment at the Smithsonian National Museum of the American Indian.

In 2008, Judd was one of 14 selected from 2,500 script submissions for the Disney/ABC Writing Fellowship Program a paid writing position with ABC/Disney. The Disney /ABC Writing Fellowship has become one of the industry's best known and well respected writing programs with over 250 alumni among Hollywood's elite, including screenwriters, directors and television showrunners.

In 2009 Judd was nominated Distinguished Alumni for the University of Oklahoma and asked to speak at the University as part of the Distinguished Alumni Lecture Series.

In 2009 Judd won the Creative Spirt Award and direct his winning screenplay "Search for the World's Best Indian Taco". In 2011 it won Outstanding Short at the "North American Indigenous Image Awards" and "Best Narrative" at The Southwestern Association for Indian Arts (Indian Market), Best Short Film at AIFI.

In 2011 the music video "The Storm" that he directed won Best Music Video at AIFI and is now in rotation at the Hard Rock Cafe's.

In 2010 he co-wrote the movie "Shouting Secrets" staring Twilight Saga actors Gil Birmingham, and Chaske Spencer, as well as Qorianka Kilcher, and Tantoo Cardinal. It premiered November 2011 in San Francisco and won Best Feature at AIFI.

In 2012 two short films he directed, "Search for the World's Best Indian Taco" and "Neil Discovers the Moon" screened at the Tribeca Theater, as part of their Summer Youth Screening Series.

"Neil Discovers the Moon" screened every day during the month of April 2012 as part of the Animation Celebration at NMAI in the Smithsonian.