Beginning on Thursday, May 28 - Jim Thorpe's birthday – we will be launching a public-facing Bring Jim Thorpe Home campaign. Our goal is repatriation of the Sac & Fox member's remains to his tribal lands in Oklahoma (more information via NARF, here).

You can find us on Twitter at @BringThorpeHome (and driving the hashtag #BringJimThorpeHome) and on Facebook at /BringJimThorpeHome. We'd appreciate you using and amplifying our messaging through your channels as we work to get this effort off the ground and expand our presence throughout the summer.

Material is included below – either for you to post, or to retweet/share. If you have questions or are interested in direct collaboration, please reach out to me at ebarnes@ASGK.com. Please also feel free to forward this information to your networks.

Many thanks,

Emma Barnes

What better way to celebrate Jim Thorpe's birthday than by announcing a campaign to Bring Jim Thorpe Home? It's been over 60 years since the remains of this sports hero and proud Native American were stolen from his tribal lands in Oklahoma. It's time for justice. <http://bit.ly/1HMnnlY>

Who was Jim Thorpe? A skilled professional football and baseball player, an ABC Sports Greatest Athlete of the 20th Century, an Olympic gold medalist – and a proud member of the Sac & Fox Nation. Learn more

It was Jim Thorpe's wish to be laid to rest at home in Oklahoma. Instead, his remains were sold to a town he'd never even laid eyes on. Stand up for the rights of Native Americans – and all Americans – and join our campaign to Bring Jim Thorpe Home: <http://bit.ly/1HMnnlY>
